Long Time Competitors

The Green Bay Packers and Chicago Bears have a long time rivalry that goes back 89 years. What you may not know is that this will simply be the second time in their history that they have met in the playoffs and the first time they are going to be competing for the right to go to the Super Bowl. They last met in 1941 at Soldier Field with the Chicago Bears pulling out the win.

Packers Gaining plenty of Adore

Green Bay is the team of pick by several to not merely go to the Super Bowl but win it. Quarterback Aaron Rodgers were simply brilliant on Saturday as the Green Bay Packers routed the Falcons by a score of 48-21. Football playoffs betting oddsmakers know that the people is going to wager on Green Bay so they've got made them liked despite the fact that they are on the road vs the National Football Conference North champion Chicago Bears. Green Bay is constantly aggressive with all 6 of their losses this season by four points or less with 2 arriving in overtime. Green Bay is the 1st squad since 1970 to go an whole season and never trail by more than 7 points. If Chicago had managed to defeat Green Bay in the regular season finale we would not be speaking about the Green Bay Packers whatsoever as they might have missed the playoffs. Green Bay is the number 6 seed but they sure do not look like a six seed. They could become the first six seed in the National Football Conference to ever arrive at the Super Bowl. The Packers have covered 4 of their previous 5 football wagering competitions versus clubs with a winning record. Green Bay has gotten the cash in 5 of their previous 7 competitions as a favorite and has covered 5 of their previous seven road matches.

Squads Divided This Year

The Green Bay Packers and Chicago Bears divided their two regular season matches this year with each team profitable at home. The Chicago Bears won 20-17 back in Week 3 whilst the Green Bay Packers won 10-3 in the regular season finale. Both of those matches handily went under the total. Gamblers making an Nfl bet on this game will probably see a total of about 40 on Sunday.
